ATAS Notifications vs. Students of Concern How to Help Struggling Students

Jonathan Vieker

October 22, 2020

Overview

- Academic concern -> ATAS Notification
- Behavioral concern -> SOC Referral

ATAS Background

- "ATAS" = "Any-Time, Any-Student"
- A TruView tool that takes input from a faculty member and generates an email to student, advisors, and submitting faculty
- Useful individually and in aggregate
- ATAS Notifications are best for academic issues
 - Designed to be non-punitive
 - When in doubt, send one.
- If an advisee receives an ATAS Notification, please reach out and offer support

ATAS Updates

- ATAS tool updated recently in response to faculty survey
- Goals:
 - Increase clarity for faculty re: ATAS vs SOC
 - Reduce friction in submission process
 - Update language

SOC Background

- "SOC" = "Students of Concern"
- "The Students of Concern Team (SOC) is a collection of trained professionals from multiple disciplines who work to help students who may be having difficulty with their behavior or actions."
- More specifically, SOC is a committee that takes referrals from faculty, staff, and students (through a web form) and "meets on a weekly basis to discuss these referrals, then creates courses of action for each student that includes the best supportive, but least intrusive action for intervention"

SOC Interface

Please check the boxes that describe the behavioral concern you are reporting to the Students of Concern team. Threat of Harm to Others (for example, violent behavior, threats, aggressive language, an interest in past violence, evidence or divulgence of past violent behavior)
Threat of Harm to Self (for example, an expressed desire to harm oneself, physical evidence or divulgence of past self-harming behaviors or suicide attempt(s))
Disruptive or Disturbing Behavior (for example, behavior or statements that seem inappropriate or off-putting, neglect of hygiene)
Substance Use/Abuse (for example, physical evidence or divulgence of abuse of alcohol or drugs)
Academic Negligence (for example, excessive absences from class, reoccurring failure to complete assignments or concerning content, failure to communicate effectively with instructors) Faculty: Please also consider sending an Anytime Any Student Warning from the Faculty Tab on TruView.

Takeaways:

- ATAS Notifications are for academic concerns
 - "I'm concerned about this student's performance."
 - When in doubt, send an ATAS Notification
- SOC referrals are for more serious concerns.
 - "I'm concerned about this student."
